

Kaiser Replies To Sen. Bridges On Hearings

Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board of the Kaiser-Frazier Corporation, in a letter dated Tuesday, June 16, in Washington, D. C., replied to Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. H.), concerning a news release of June 12, in which the New Hampshire Senator announced that hearings on the procurement by the Air Force of the C-119 Cargo Airplane had been completed. The Kaiser-Frazier board chairman's letter stated "we cannot believe that you will close the hearings without hearing our side of the story."

Mr. Kaiser's letter follows:

KAISER-FRAZER CORP.
WILLOW RUN, MICHIGAN
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16

1953 —

The Honorable Styles Bridges

United States Senate

Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Senator Bridges:

In your news release of Friday, June 12, you announced that hearings on the procurement by the Air Force of the C-119 cargo airplane had been completed and that an interim committee report would be issued shortly.

We cannot believe that you will close the hearings without hearing our side of the story.

Your committee called only four witnesses and has not called anyone from Kaiser Motors to tell its side of the story. The substance of the hearings created a damaging and wholly false impression of the character and integrity of Kaiser Motors.

We ask that your committee defer any report evaluating the facts of the procurement and costs of the C-119 cargo airplane until after Kaiser Motors has had an opportunity to testify.

The entire value of the Congressional investigation, as a time-honored part of our governmental system, is to produce facts in which both the Congress and the public can have confidence and on which sound policies and action can be based.

I am sure you realize that the publicity resulting from the hearings at which our testimony was not heard has affected our business and reputation and has been injurious to our employees, dealers and stockholders.

The name of Kaiser-Frazier Corporation was recently changed to Kaiser Motors Corporation.

Our Washington office advised me prior to the commencement of the hearings that the subcommittee staff had stated that the committee would call only government witnesses and a list of these was subsequently announced. Other than this I had no knowledge of the procedure to be followed by the committee. I was further advised by our Washington office after the subcommittee recessed for executive session that if we desired to be heard the committee would be glad to hear us.

The purpose of this letter is to formally request to be heard by your committee. We wish to suggest that in all fairness, since so much damage has already been done to us, that we be permitted to appear as the first witnesses at the resumed C-119 hearings and that the hearings be scheduled for as early a date as possible.

At that time it is our purpose to do two things:

1. To tell the full story of why the gigantic Willow Run aircraft facility was activated at a time of great national emergency in accordance with the National Security clause in our contract for the purchase of the plant, and how, in accordance with the government's

6 Firms Vie For Furniture Bids At Delhaas H. S.

Bristol township School District Authority meeting last night at Delhaas high school received bids for furniture for the high school from six firms.

The bids were not awarded but were taken under advisement to determine which was the low bidder.

Members of the school board were present at the bid opening, but there were not enough members to constitute a quorum so no meeting of the board was held.

Bidders last night were: Allied Equipment Corp., Trenton; American Seating Co., Philadelphia; Garrett Buchanan Co., Philadelphia; Milton Bradley Co., Philadelphia; John P. Morgan Co., of Philadelphia, submitted a partial bid.

After bids are awarded delivery of the equipment is expected before opening of school in September. The furniture is only the first of a much greater quantity that must be ordered as the new high school moves to completion.

Bids were for: 351 pupil chairs; 210 pupil desks; 12 teacher chairs; 12 teacher desks; 60 pupil chairs; 60 pupil typewriter tables.

Warner Renews 'Area Tenant' Water Demand

William W. Warner, former borough councilman and central figure in the controversy that developed from last week's borough council meeting over whether council should lift its ban on extensions of water mains in the township, today re-newed his demand that he be supplied with water by the borough.

Charging that refusal to supply water as requested was holding up development of a "badly needed recreation area" near the borough, Warner extended an invitation to all residents of the borough to "come out and see for yourself how the young people of Bristol are enjoying themselves" and how area youth have been taken off the streets of the borough and the township and given recreational facilities.

The greatest part of his property at Route 13 and Beaver Dam road is to be used for "recreational purposes," Warner claims. He said that he has had eight separate requests by firms who want to put "kiddie-land amusements" on the site, but hesitate to do so because they require water.

It seems strange to me that someone else right down the street can be given water and the borough refuses to supply my property. I don't want the water for myself. I want it for my tenants so they can set up amusement areas for

Traffic Light At Tullytown To Be Changed

TULLYTOWN, June 19 — Motorists entering the Route 13-Fallsington avenue intersection after crossing the railroad bridge have been confused by reading the wrong traffic light signals, but the situation will soon be corrected, John Lucisano, chairman of the Borough Council police committee, said yesterday.

The light signals went in operation Monday. Because of the short angle at which Fallsington avenue joins the highway, drivers heading north see the signal for Route 13 drivers before noticing the light supposed to direct them.

Shields will be mounted on the light standard to end the confusion, Lucisano said.

To Enter County North of Tracks At Andalusia

Will Roughly Parallel Route 13 To Bridgewater

The Delaware River Expressway will enter Bucks County at Andalusia between the main-line tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Route 13, if plans now under way for the roadway materialize, it was learned today.

Both the Bucks County Planning Commission and the Philadelphia City Planning Commission are actively working on the plan of the route of the Delaware River Expressway.

The City Planning Commission Wednesday authorized a $12,000 study of the route of the proposed highway through Philadelphia.

The Bucks County Planning Commission today released the tentative route of the Expressway through Bucks county.

Franklin Wood, executive director of the county planning commission said according to maps of both the county commission and the city commission the Expressway would leave Philadelphia and enter into Bucks county south of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

"There is reason to believe, however," said Wood, "that the actual entrance into Bucks county will be north of the railroad tracks."

Route of the Expressway is then anticipated to follow roughly parallel to Route 13 north of the railroad to a point near Bridgewater on the Neshaminy Creek.

At Bridgewater, the Expressway is proposed to take a sharp turn to the northeast to cross the Nesha-

Kaiser Replies To Sen. Bridges On Hearings

Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board of the Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, in a letter dated Tuesday, June 16, in Washington, D. C., replied to Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. The Kaiser-Frazer board chairman's letter stated "we cannot believe that you will close the hearings without hearing our side of the story."

Mr. Kaiser's letter follows:

Traffic Light At Tullytown To Be Changed

TULLYTOWN, June 19 — Motorists entering the Route 13-Fallsington avenue intersection after crossing the railroad bridge have been confused by reading the wrong traffic light signals, but the situation will soon be corrected, John Lucisano, chairman of the Borough Council police committee, said yesterday.

The light signals went in operation Monday. Because of the short angle at which Fallsington avenue joins the highway, drivers heading north see the signal for Route 13 drivers before noticing the light supposed to direct them.

Shields will be mounted on the light standard to end the confusion, Lucisano said.

Grandchild, Family Watch As Woman Wins M. S. Degree

HULMEVILLE, June 19 — In addition to her husband, four children and one grandchild of Mrs. Willard Bartoe witnessed ceremonies in Municipal auditorium, Phila., yesterday, when Mrs. Bartoe received her master of science degree in education from Temple University.

Mrs. Daniel Speakman, Columbus, O.; Mrs. James Lewis, Phila.; Judith and John David Bartoe, the daughters and son of Dr. and Mrs. Bartoe, as well as Victoria Joanne Speakman, of Columbus, a granddaughter, were present for the conferring of the degree.

Mrs. Bartoe, a member of the faculty of Upper Southampton schools, teaches home economics. A graduate of Ohio State University, she is also secretary of Hulmeville school board.

Her husband, Dr. Willard Bartoe, is with the firm of Rohm & Haas Co., Bristol.

Firemen Fund Drive Interrupted by Fire

FEASTERTOWN, June 19 — The Feastertown Fire Company's maintenance fund gained $50 last night after giving a practical demonstration of what the money is needed for.

Assistant Chief John Wagner, of Lindbergh avenue, out soliciting funds, was driving the company's engine down Bridgetown Pike when he saw smoke coming from a red car parked outside the municipal building, at Elmwood avenue. Wagner raced to the burning car, stopped and put out the blaze singlehanded as a crowd collected.

The owner of the car is Lower Southampton Police Chief Edward Wunsch who, with the spectators, pushed a drive for funds. The contribution almost doubled the amount collected earlier in the day.

County Firemen Vie For Tug-of-War Prize

Battling for the "Tug-of-War" trophy at Eddington this week are fire companies from nearly all areas of lower Bucks County.

Wednesday night, Croydon Fire Co. won over Trevores Fire Co. No. 1 in the five-man-team tug of war contest at the Fair grounds. Union Fire Co. lost by default by not attending.

Last year, the team from Newportville won the championship title at the Eddington fair. Fireman's night at the fair is next Friday, June 25, and Robert Brenner, chief of Eddington Fire police said today that invitations have been sent to 250 fire companies to attend the fair.

To Enter County North of Tracks At Andalusia

Will Roughly Parallel Route 13 To Bridgewater

The Delaware River Expressway will enter Bucks County at Andalusia between the main-line tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Route 13, if plans now under way for the roadway materialize, it was learned today.

Both the Bucks County Planning Commission and the Philadelphia City Planning Commission are actively working on the plan of the route of the Delaware River Expressway.

The City Planning Commission Wednesday authorized a $12,000 study of the route of the proposed highway through Philadelphia.

The Bucks County Planning Commission today released the tentative route of the Expressway through Bucks county.

Franklin Wood, executive director of the county planning commission said according to maps of both the county commission and the city commission the Expressway would leave Philadelphia and enter into Bucks county south of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

"There is reason to believe, however," said Wood, "that the actual entrance into Bucks county will be north of the railroad tracks."

Route of the Expressway is then anticipated to follow roughly parallel to Route 13 north of the railroad to a point near Bridgewater on the Neshaunim Creek.

At Bridgewater, the Expressway is proposed to take a sharp turn to the northeast to cross the Neshaunim Creek.

SUMMER!

On June 21, at precisely noon, eastern standard time, summer will arrive on the American scene. For the next 90 days the sun will rule the land, theoretically at least. Bathing beaches and mountain resorts will play host to vacationing throngs. Stay-at-homes will battle garden weeds.

In honor of summer, the sun will work its longest hours of the year on June 21, notes the National Geographic Society. It will be above the horizon for 15 hours and 37 minutes at Minneapolis, for 14 hours and 31 minutes at Chattanooga, and for 14 hours and 5 minutes at New Orleans.

On this day—officially termed the summer solstice in the northern hemisphere—the sun is directly overhead at the Tropic of Cancer, an imaginary line encircling the earth 23½ degrees north of the equator. Solstice, derived from Latin, means when the "sun stands still".

On June 22 the sun will begin its apparent southward journey. Six months later, on or about December 21, the sun will be directly above the Tropic of Capricorn, 23½ degrees south of the equator. The southern half of the world will then observe the summer solstice.

Highest U. S. Temperatures usually do not occur until a month or more after the summer solstice. Once the earth's air blanket gets warm enough, however, it takes less sunshine to sustain high readings—even after the sun is well on its way south. Hottest place in the nation is Greenland Ranch in California's Death Valley. Its midsummer mean temperature is a blistering 102 degrees.

When heat waves scorch the Middle West, sear the Imperial Valley and cook the East in humidity and heat, it is usually hotter somewhere else. Along the coast of the Persian Gulf in Iran, unofficial temperatures of 150 to 180 degrees have been taken in the sun. On Abadan Island, at the head of the gulf, the mercury in unprotected thermometers has been reported to climb to a dizzy 189 degrees.

In honor of summer, the sun will work its longest hours of the year on June 21, notes the National Geographic Society. It will be above the horizon for 15 hours and 37 minutes at Minneapolis, for 14 hours and 31 minutes at Chattanooga, and for 14 hours and 5 minutes at New Orleans.

On this day—officially termed the summer solstice in the northern hemisphere—the sun is directly overhead at the Tropic of Cancer, an imaginary line encircling the earth 23½ degrees north of the equator. Solstice, derived from Latin, means when the "sun stands still".

On June 22 the sun will begin its apparent southward journey. Six months later, on or about December 21, the sun will be directly above the Tropic of Capricorn, 23½ degrees south of the equator. The southern half of the world will then observe the summer solstice.

Highest U. S. Temperatures usually do not occur until a month or more after the summer solstice. Once the earth's air blanket gets warm enough, however, it takes less sunshine to sustain high readings—even after the sun is well on its way south. Hottest place in the nation is Greenland Ranch in California's Death Valley. Its midsummer mean temperature is a blistering 102 degrees.

When heat waves scorch the Middle West, sear the Imperial Valley and cook the East in humidity and heat, it is usually hotter somewhere else. Along the coast of the Persian Gulf in Iran, unofficial temperatures of 150 to 180 degrees have been taken in the sun. On Abadan Island, at the head of the gulf, the mercury in unprotected thermometers has been reported to climb to a dizzy 189 degrees.

Claims 2-Piece Suit Is 'On the Way Out'

By International News Service
NEW YORK — (INS) — At least one men's clothing executive predicts that the conventional two-piece suit most men wear today is on its way out.

According to David Lewis, there's a revolution going on in men's clothing — and women are responsible.

Lewis, who is president of Esquire Sportswear, Inc., believes women have a say, directly or indirectly, in 85 per cent of all men's clothing purchases. And he says the ladies like to see men in sports clothes rather than suits.

As proof of his argument, Lewis points to the fact that President Eisenhower sported a natty sports jacket and slacks combination on his way to his inaugural.

Lewis adds that a shopper can find brighter colors in sports clothes than in suits, and he says that the top-selling colors so far in 1953 are gray, skipper blue and green, instead of the usual drab browns and tans.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, June 19 — The recognition of the Communist Chinese Government would open the doors for the same kind of disaster that occurred when the Roosevelt Administration recognized the revolutionary government of the Soviet Union.

The same Liberals and Left Wingers at home and in Great Britain who in 1935 recited the glowing benefits they said would occur when we recognized the Communists in Russia now sing the same song for Communist China.

There were promises then of vast caravans carrying riches in minerals and other goods to the United States from Russia. In turn, we would peddle to them our pots and pans, our machinery and our surplus farm goods for great profit.

What we wound up with is a caravan of Soviet spies penetrating all of our security departments, plus an $11,000,000,000 gift to Russia in the form of war supplies, huge chemical and steel producing plants, gigantic hydro-electric machinery, railroads and mountains of food—all free.

The same goes for the Chinese Communists. Their diplomatic recognition is the key that would open up another Pandora's box of trouble. More spies, this time Asiatics; eventual demands for "loans," and free access to American information outlets for Red Chinese propaganda — these and other equally distasteful items would be in store if we recognize the Red Chinese regime.

The British argument for recognition — voiced by Sir Winston Churchill and the Labor Party's lackey, Socialist Clement Attlee — now has turned into a threat. British Parliamentary spokesmen say openly that unless we join the British in recognizing Communist China, their government will force a vote in the United Nations, which would decide by majority vote that Communist China should take a seat there.

President Eisenhower has pledged his leadership in a fight to prevent such U.N. recognition. His leadership may not be enough.

In the proposed legislative amendment to cut off U. S. contributions to United Nations funds in the event of Chinese Communist admission to the U. N., the United States had an effective weapon against the British and other nations bent on dignifying the Red seizure of China.

We no longer have that weapon. The Senate approved a watered-down version which simply stated that it objected to any such action. It may some day reverse itself again and restore the original resolution to dry up U. S. contributions to the U. N. Few U. N. member nations have even displayed a desire to pay a more equitable share of U. N. expenses on the present basis, let alone pick up the check now paid by the U.S.A.

Formosa is next on the British list. If she succeeds in shoving Communist China into the U. N. her next proposal will be to have the International Organization seize the Nationalist Chinese stronghold and place it under a 10-year trusteeship. That would effectively eliminate Free China.

British government officials already are privately and publicly protesting American aid to Formosa. They say we have no right to use Formosa as an auxiliary military base. If not, then neither do we have any right to use the British Isles as an auxiliary military base. Suggesting a withdrawal from there might be an effective way to stop British yammering for comradeship with the Chinese Reds. It's worth thinking over, at any rate.

British eggheads and their American counterparts peddle the hogwash that once we recognize Red China we'll instantly detect the difference between that brand of Communism and the brand practiced in the Soviet Union. We've heard that before, but the chorus goes on.

The British are certain they retain the decisive voice in international affairs. Churchill and Attlee were bringing it to bear when they stepped up recently and criticized the U. S. A. for not surrendering to the Chinese Communists militarily and diplomatically.

Generously, the British accede to us an economic superiority, although they doubt our political wisdom. No such doubts were expressed when we yanked the British from the clutches of Nazism. They credited us then with the sharpest kind of political acumen, but not until after the British leaders had tried all types of European appeasement.

Why the British insist the same appeasement technique will work in Asia when it led to war in Europe is an international enigma that cannot be explained by stubbornness alone. If they keep on talking long enough and loud enough, maybe we will learn the real reason. We're entitled to know it. We've paid for the knowledge many times over and probably will continue to do so for years to come.

Lady Bull Fighter Keeps in Trim By New York Strolls

By Phyllis Battelle

(Pinch-hitting for Inez Robb, who is on vacation)

NEW YORK — (INS) — The custodians of New York's Central Park are so biased they wouldn't look twice at a strolling giraffe ("Just keep it on da leash, lady").

but today they were non-plussed by a lady bull fighter in action.

Even without bull, she looked good. Cute, quick on the twist, figure like a whacked-down Venus.

"This doll," said one park attendant in apt tribute, "should not be gored. What's she — crazy?"

Betty Ford, the doll in question, may seem crazy to New Yorkers who rarely get close to anything more damaging than a vial of vodka.

But actually, she's a determined woman of 23 who took up the sport of bull-fighting three months ago in Mexico City and became so enamored of it that she returned to New York this week to pack her duds for a professional lifetime in the arena.

"It's a little tough," she wheezed amid the swirls and twirls she was practicing on a Central Park green. "To keep in shape like this. No trainer. No bull. But I've got to stay in trim if I'm going to take on a bull in public in nine months or a year. My trainers promised me that."

Claims 2-Piece Suit Is 'On the Way Out'

By International News Service
NEW YORK — (INS) — At least one men's clothing executive predicts that the conventional two-piece suit most men wear today is on its way out.

According to David Lewis, there's a revolution going on in men's clothing—and women are responsible.

Lewis, who is president of Esquire Sportswear, Inc., believes women have a say, directly or indirectly, in 85 per cent of all men's clothing purchases. And he says the ladies like to see men in sports clothes rather than suits.

As proof of his argument, Lewis points to the fact that President Eisenhower sported a natty sports jacket and slacks combination on his way to his inaugural.

Lewis adds that a shopper can find brighter colors in sports clothes than in suits, and he says that the top-selling colors so far in 1953 are gray, skipper blue and green, instead of the usual drab browns and tans.

CROWDS IN SUPREME COURT FOR ROSENBERG HEARING

THE CORRIDOR of the U. S. Supreme Court building in Washington is crowded with people waiting for a chance to attend the extraordinary session of the High Tribunal called to decide the fate of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, condemned atom spies. Attorneys, government officials and spectators filled every available inch of space in the great chamber as Justices listened to opposing arguments. (International Soundphoto)

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, June 19 — The recognition of the Communist Chinese Government would open the doors for the same kind of disaster that occurred when the Roosevelt Administration recognized the revolutionary government of the Soviet Union.

The same Liberals and Left Wingers at home and in Great Britain who in 1935 recited the glowing benefits they said would occur when we recognized the Communists in Russia now sing the same song for Communist China.

There were promises then of vast caravans carrying riches in minerals and other goods to the United States from Russia. In turn, we would peddle to them our pots and pans, our machinery and our surplus farm goods for great profit.

What we wound up with is a caravan of Soviet spies penetrating all of our security departments, plus an $11,000,000,000 gift to Russia in the form of war supplies, huge chemical and steel producing plants, gigantic hydro-electric machinery, railroads and mountains of food—all free.

The same goes for the Chinese Communists. Their diplomatic recognition is the key that would open up another Pandora's box of trouble. More spies, this time Asiatics; eventual demands for "loans," and free access to American information outlets for Red Chinese propaganda—these and other equally distasteful items would be in store if we recognize the Red Chinese regime.

The British argument for recognition—voiced by Sir Winston Churchill and the Labor Party's lackey, Socialist Clement Attlee—now has turned into a threat. British Parliamentary spokesmen say openly that unless we join the British in recognizing Communist China, their government will force a vote in the United Nations, which would decide by majority vote that Communist China should take a seat there.

President Eisenhower has pledged his leadership in a fight to prevent such U.N. recognition. His leadership may not be enough.

In the proposed legislative amendment to cut off U. S. contributions to United Nations funds in the event of Chinese Communist admission to the U. N., the United States had an effective weapon against the British and other nations bent on dignifying the Red seizure of China.

We no longer have that weapon. The Senate approved a watered-down version which simply stated that it objected to any such action. It may some day reverse itself again and restore the original resolution to dry up U. S. contributions to the U. N. Few U. N. member nations have even displayed a desire to pay a more equitable share of U. N. expenses on the present basis, let alone pick up the check now paid by the U. S. A.

Formosa is next on the British list. If she succeeds in shoving Communist China into the U. N. her next proposal will be to have the International Organization seize the Nationalist Chinese stronghold and place it under a 10-year trusteeship. That would effectively eliminate Free China.

British government officials already are privately and publicly protesting American aid to Formosa. They say we have no right to use Formosa as an auxiliary military base. If not, then neither do we have any right to use the British Isles as an auxiliary military base. Suggesting a withdrawal from there might be an effective way to stop British yammering for comradeship with the Chinese Reds. It's worth thinking over, at any rate.

British eggheads and their American counterparts peddle the hogwash that once we recognize Red China we'll instantly detect the difference between that brand of Communism and the brand practiced in the Soviet Union. We've heard that before, but the chorus goes on.

The British are certain they retain the decisive voice in international affairs. Churchill and Attlee were bringing it to bear when they stepped up recently and criticized the U. S. A. for not surrendering to the Chinese Communists militarily and diplomatically.

Generously, the British accede to us an economic superiority, although they doubt our political wisdom. No such doubts were expressed when we yanked the British from the clutches of Nazism. They credited us then with the sharpest kind of political acumen, but not until after the British leaders had tried all types of European appeasement.

Why the British insist the same appeasement technique will work in Asia when it led to war in Europe is an international enigma that cannot be explained by stubbornness alone. If they keep on talking long enough and loud enough, maybe we will learn the real reason. We're entitled to know it. We've paid for the knowledge many times over and probably will continue to do so for years to come.

Lady Bull Fighter Keeps in Trim By New York Strolls

By Phyllis Battelle

(Pinch-hitting for Inez Robb, who is on vacation)

NEW YORK — (INS) — The custodians of New York's Central Park are so blasé they wouldn't look twice at a strolling giraffe ("Just keep it on a leash, lady").

but today they were non-plussed by a lady bull fighter in action.

Even without bull, she looked good. Cute, quick on the twist, figure like a whacked-down Venus.

"This doll," said one park attendant in apt tribute, "should not be gored. What's she—crazy?"

Betty Ford, the doll in question, may seem crazy to New Yorkers who rarely get close to anything more damaging than a vial of vodka.

But actually, she's a determined woman of 23 who took up the sport of bull-fighting three months ago

in Mexico City and became so enamored of it that she returned to New York this week to pack her duds for a professional lifetime in the arena.

"It's a little tough," she wheezed amid the swirls and twirls she was practicing on a Central Park green. "To keep in shape like this. No trainer. No bull. But I've got to stay in trim if I'm going to take on a bull in public in nine months or a year. My trainers promised me that."

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By "Ken" Jenks
(Pinch-Hitting for "Joe" Elbertson)

Fishermen follow their sport for the wide varieties of purpose—a day spent in the outdoors for the finest kind of recreation; a delicious meal provided as a result of their efforts; the extreme satisfaction which comes from causing fish to strike at artificial lures because they were properly presented; the incomparable thrill which vibrates through an angler's body at the feel of a good fish attached to the terminal end of his equipment.

All fishermen in lower Bucks county (who are not members of a sportsmen's club), and who have enjoyed such basic pleasures, this year, because trout were available to them in the Neshaminy Creek, owe it to themselves and the fishing fraternity as a whole to become such a member.

It was through the efforts of local clubs as members of county and state federations that this project was made possible. It will be mainly through their strength and cooperation that the practice of stocking this stream will be continued in the future.

The clubs in lower Bucks county are unanimous in their belief that the placing of trout in the Neshaminy creek has proved to be the greatest improvement that has ever occurred for the fishermen in this area and they need all the support possible so next year and the succeeding years will see the Neshaminy creek remain a trout stream.

The Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's monthly blue rock shoot held June 14th, was attended by some 30 shooters. The final scores were as follows:

Lewis class event: Class No. 1—S. LeCates 47; B. Cassalia 45 and 6. Good 41. Class No. 2—W. Wurz, W. Doran, J. King, W. Benner tied for first with 38; J. Brady, W. Warner tied for second with 37 and L. Book 36.

Practice events: 16 yard singles—T. Mast 23, C. Blittie 23, A. Twining 22, W. Prickett 22, D. Roal 21; and F. Davies 20.

16 yard doubles—B. Cassalia 20, W. Prickett 18 and Smith 17.

Four members of Bristol Fish and Game Ass'n entered their first bow hunters field tournament at Egg Harbor, N. J., last Sunday. The shooters consisted of "Bill" Larrisey, "Jim" Elliott, "Vince" Nocito and "Lou" Favato. The shoot consisted of 28 targets, but due to rain they only could shoot at 14, coming out with fairly good scores.

There will be another shoot at Egg Harbor in three weeks, so they expect to have more archers out at the next shoot.

Milk, Eggs Hit Record in State For Production

HARRISBURG — (INS) — The State Department of Agriculture today reported milk and egg production on Pennsylvania farms reached record levels during May.

An all-time record of 592,000,000 pounds of milk was produced by 916,000 cows. A 20 per cent drop in the hundredweight price of milk prompted farmers to dispose of poorer producing cows.

Production for the period January-May this year totaled 2,548,000,000 pounds as compared with 2,447,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1952.

The State's hens established a new record for May egg production and posted the third highest month on record.

The department said approximately 18,771,000 layers yielded an average 18.41 eggs during the month.

Output for the first five months of 1953 stood at 1,771,000,000 eggs as compared with 1,686,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

On May 15, egg prices were down two and a half cents to 50 cents a dozen from a month earlier but nine cents higher than May 15, 1952.

White Summer Hats Can Now Be Restored

NEW YORK — (INS) — That white summer hat which has become a little dingy doesn't have to be thrown away. It can be restored to that white, white look with soapsuds.

Make sure before you start to sud a hat that any trimmings are washable or can be removed. Then start by scrubbing the brim or binding with a well-soaped stiff brush. If it's a fabric hat such as pique or linen, you can dunk it right into warm soapsuds and rinse. For straw, it's best to scrub with "dry" soapsuds — the heavy lather scooped off the top of the basin — then rinse with a damp cloth wrung out of clear water.

Hats can be blocked over a shaped bowl or on your own "block" if you don't happen to own the professional type. Press a fabric hat while still slightly damp, rotating section by section to eliminate all creases. First step is to iron the lining band and under side of the brim. Next do the crown, inside and outside — a rounded, padded press-mitt makes an excellent "block" for shaping the crown. Finally press the brim on the right side. If your linen or pique hat has a wide brim and you want it to be flat instead of floppy, use a thin starch rinse.

Cotton Lingerie Grows In Distaff Favor

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (INS) — It seems that the gals prefer the easy care of cotton to seductive silk for their "unmentionables" these days. The National Cotton Council in Memphis has happily reported a growing trend toward the sturdy fabric in the underwear items responsible for holding feminine figures in place.

Statistics show use of cotton in lingerie increased from 39,000 bales in 1945 to a record high of 65,000 bales in 1952. Further gains are expected this year.

Trade sources reported that comfort is the chief reason for the swing to cotton. They explained that synthetic fabrics tend to be hot and clammy, especially during summer months.

"Washability," followed by appearance and price are other features women indicate they like in cotton.

Embroidered eyelet was found to be the most popular foundation material available today. It is used in manufacturing all types of girdles — pull-ons, high tops, all-in-ones, waistline and zipper-fastened.

Cotton eyelet also goes into strapless, stitched, wired and other types of bras.

Trevoze Heights, Feasterville Area Mail Service Set

LANGHORNE, June 19 — Postmaster Joseph A. Zalot announced today that mail delivery by two carriers will start in Feasterville and a section of Trevoze Heights, Monday.

The Post Office Department approved the delivery service following a campaign conducted by the Feasterville Businessmen's Association and residents of the community.

Joseph J. Linski, a disabled war veteran, will be transferred from the railway mail service to carrier, Zalot said. The other carrier is Cheston G. Tomlinson, formerly with the U. S. Marine Corps Depot in Philadelphia.

Deliveries, in addition to Feasterville, will include Pine Tree Farm and Somerton Highlands sections, which are portions of Lower Southampton township. The Trevoze Heights area which will get carrier service are: Myrtle, Elmwood, Oak ave. and Bridgeton rd.

All residents are asked to install a regulation mailbox in order to receive mail. Those without mailboxes will be obliged to collect their mail at the post office, Zalot said.

The Postmaster also announced that the Feasterville branch office service window will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. to sell stamps, money orders and transact other postal business. Bids for a new location for a branch post office, consisting of 1100 square feet, will be open July 1, Zalot reported.

Stage Quadruple Birthday Party

The Mothers Association of Bristol Township gave a birthday party to four members, June 18th, in Bristol Terrace community hall.

Those celebrating anniversaries were: Mrs. Gilbert Nicodemus, Mrs. Frank Reiser, Mrs. J. Milton Woolston and Mrs. James Sabatini.

The highlight of the evening was a surprise shower tendered Mrs. Nicodemus.

The hall was decorated in pink and blue. Vases of cut flowers decorated the table. The centerpiece was a miniature rocking cradle. Favors were candy-filled baskets.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Mulvey and Mrs. Charles D. Sanford.

Attending were: Mrs. Gilbert Nicodemus, Mrs. Frank Reiser, Mrs. J. Milton Woolston, Mrs. James Sabatini, Mrs. Joseph Binkley, Mrs. Jules Cerruti, Mrs. Harold Richmond, Mrs. Charles Klein, Mrs. Warren Brace, Mrs. Charles Edgings, Mrs. Edward Catalanotti. The honored guests received gifts. The affair was the last social gathering for the group until October.

"There is one thing about baldness," declared the humorist Don Herold, "it's neat."

Parisian Styles Give Men Continental Touch 'a la mode'

By Nora W. Martin
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

PARIS—(INS)—Paris has dreamed up some new style ideas for males who want the "Continental Touch."

Large but sloping shoulders, loosely fitted, slightly shorter jackets with narrow lapels and pants nine inches wide at the cuffs are new wrinkles for the males. Light overcoats for men will be fairly wide and shorter than knee-length.

Vests which until now were considered as "zoot-suits" are definitely in style and will bring a personal note to the males' wardrobe. Vests for 1953 are not made of the suit material but of contrasting colors and fabrics. Suede, felt or plaid patterns will be in fashion.

But the height of chic for a gent will be a vest embroidered by loving hands, as in Grandpa's time.

Masculine elegance also depends on little details. The breast-pocket handkerchief, for instance, should never show more than one inch. The points of the shirt collar should never stick out but always be kept inside the suit lapels. The shirt-cuffs, on the other hand, must show. The button-holes on the suit sleeves should be real, with two buttoned and two left open.

For men grey is the color 'a la mode. Blue runs a close second. Sport jackets of beige or brown tweeds are admitted if worn with flannel pants. For sports wear knickerbockers are back in style. Made of brown corduroy, they are dernier cri!

For Summer shirts the tendency is toward plain and very light colors. Egg-shell, white-blue and white-grey are the new continental shirt colors. For vacation time a plain azure blue or a bright red shirt will have more continental allure than a plaid cowboy shirt.

While a man's shirt should always look fresh from the laundry, the code for masculine elegance banishes suits which look too new. "Break your suit in at home before you wear it in public," is an old rule on the continent. No knife-sharp creases in trousers and never creases in the sleeves!

This Summer it will be even out of date to have a shoe-shine. Not that men should wear their foot-wear dusty, but suede and mat leathers—preferably cut like moccasins—are the latest masculine shoe styles from Paris.

MORE CHEVROLET
TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official sales figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks.

If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

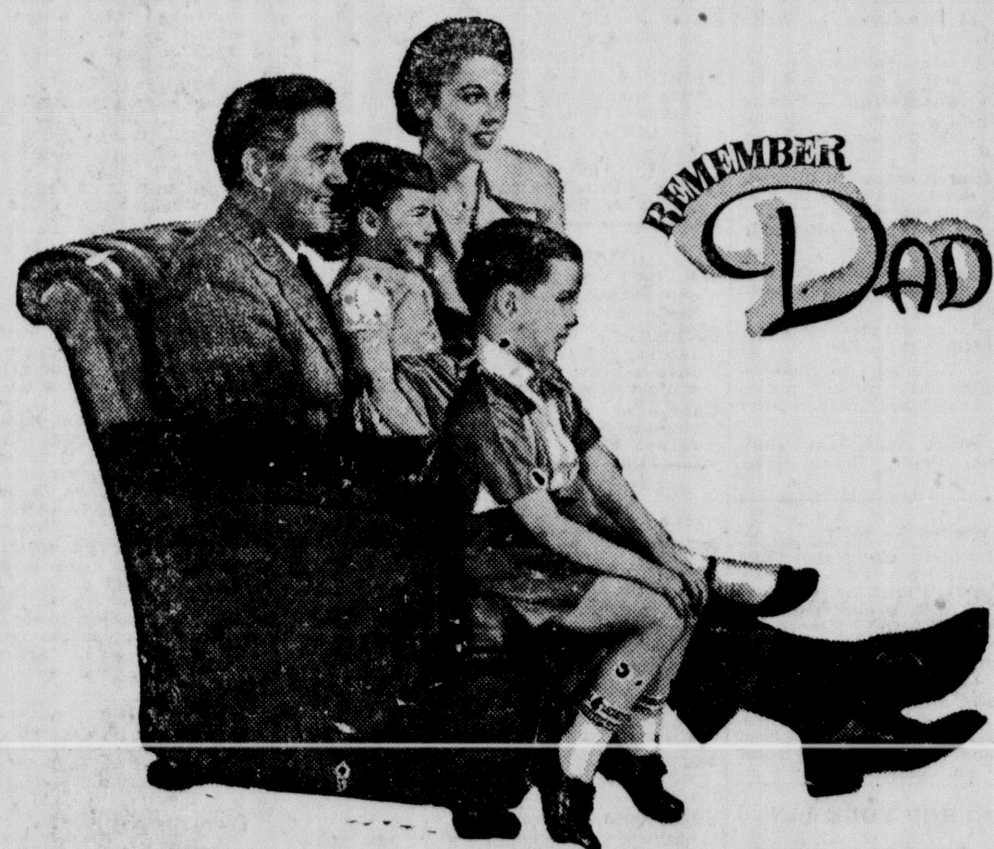

Millions of truck buyers have found this to be true. They've found, too, that Chevrolet trucks offer more features they want, yet it's the lowest-priced truck line of all! That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

miny Creek in the vicinity of Maple Shade.

Striking out from this point northeast, passing north of Delhaas high school, to a point near the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company, Green lane, the proposed roadway intersects with the Pennsylvania Turnpike's Delaware River extension at Route 13.

The Expressway intersection at Route 13 would be somewhat north of the Turnpike intersection at Route 13.

According to Wood, the plans are still in the tentative stage but the Expressway route would be laid out so the roadway will traverse open fields as much as possible.

Time Trials Set Tomorrow For 'International 200'

LANGHORNE, June 19—Tomorrow afternoon more than 50 of the top stock car pilots of America, Canada and Europe will commence taking time trials in preparation for what promises to be one of the greatest spectacles ever presented on a raceway.

Pilots of the foreign-made and American-made stocks must take their mounts around the famed Langhorne Speedway in an official time trial and their starting position in Sunday's International "200" will be determined as a result of this time. The lap record for the fast mile around the 'Horne is 42.882 seconds and is held by the present pacemaker in NASCAR competition, Herb Thomas. The public will be admitted to the time trials.

The fastest 50 will qualify for the 200-mile grind around the circular course scheduled for Sunday. The drivers will be competing for a purse of $10,000, with close to $3,000 going to the winner.

Record for the 200-mile late model event, 2 hours, 44 minutes, 47.95 seconds, was established by Fonty Flock in September of 1950. Fonty has predicted that this mark would positively be bettered in the International... as a matter of fact he predicted that he would be the ace to accomplish the same, with brother Tim very close behind.
